STRANGLED TO DEATH.

Jackson and Walling Die Horrible Deaths.

In Expiation of the Murder of Poor Pearl Bryan.

NO CLEW TO THE MISSING HEAD GIVEN.

SCOTT JACKSON.

BULLETINS.

NEWPORT, March 20.—Jackson exonerates Walling under shadow of the gallows. Gov. Bradley has been notified. Waiting his decision now.

E. C. WALTON.

NEWPORT, March 20.—Both men hung at 11:40. Good job. Great excitement.

E. C. WALTON.

NEWPORT, March 20.—Both died game, protesting their innocence. Admitted that their confession putting the crime on Dr. Wagner was a lie. Preacher Lee was the most nervous of the three.

E. C. WALTON.

NEWPORT, March 20.—Next to the last of the big events is over and the hanging of Jackson and Walling Saturday was about the biggest of all—the best to say the least. There wasn't the pomp and ceremony that attended the inauguration nor the speculation that the prize fight brought about, but the whole world was interested and it breathes easier now that Scott and Lon have crossed the valley of the shadow of death.

Little Newport was crowded with people who hoped to get a glimpse of the execution, but a great majority of them were deprived of the pleasure(?) Soldiers, deputy sheriffs and police were everywhere and it was necessary to "keep in the middle of the road" or be gouged by a bayonet or struck by a billy. The important fellows would not answer civilly a question politely propounded and "stand back," "not allowed here" seemed to have been the extent of their vocabulary.

Various rumors that Jackson had told all and that Walling had been relieved, &c., were rife, but the Cincinnati Post, which was issued every few minutes contradicted these and was the real official organ of the day.

Walling was very sanguine of a reprieve after Jackson had exonerated him and chatted merrily to the hosts of newspaper correspondents, but it didn't last long. Gov. Bradley wanted a detailed statement from Jackson, but as he would give none, the executive refused to interfere.

The procession of death formed at 11:31; a minute later both men protested their innocence; Rev. Lee read from the Bible and at 11:37 the ropes were adjusted and feet and hands strapped. Three minutes later the murder of Pearl Bryan was avenged. Walling was pronounced dead at 11:55 and Jackson at 12:01; their bodies were cut down at 12:04, Walling's body shipped to Hamilton, O., and Jackson's cremated and the ashes sent to his mother. Instead of 50 there were 300 present. Badges and tickets were transferred and made to answer repeatedly for admissions.

"You are hanging an innocent man," said Jackson, as the noose was being adjusted. "So am I innocent; God knows I am," said Walling. Both men were cool and deliberate and ascended the scaffold with firm steps. Rev. Lee, "the sensationalist," was the most nervous man in the enclosure. He wore a self-important air and his long, black hair and clerical dress gave him rather a distinguished appearance. He owes a good deal to the two noted criminals, for but for them he would probably never been heard of outside of Newport.

The failure of Jackson and Walling to state where and how Pearl Bryan was killed and where her head was a general disappointment. Those who had been with them most were sure that they would tell all before meeting the great judge and much time was spent in their effort to get a confession, but all to no avail. The Enquirer is said to have spent a small fortune trying to get them to make a revelation of the matter.

Jackson and Walling spent their last night on earth very differently. The former drank whisky, cursed the turnkeys and his death-watch, flirted with girls from his window and now and then wrote a letter. He smoked most of the time and finally retired about 3 o'clock. He was up at 5:40 and with his partner ate a hearty breakfast a few minutes later. Walling went to sleep at 1 and slept soundly until nearly 6.

Seats on the top of houses surrounding the jail sold at $1 to $3 and most of them were covered with the curious. It was impossible to see much of the hanging even from those lofty points as Sheriff Plummer had an enclosure nearly as high as the court-house built.

Scott Jackson was 29 years old and was born in Maine. His father was a sea captain and in his early youth Scott crossed the ocean 14 times. While assistant agent at a railway station in New Jersey he and the agent robbed the office. They were arrested, Jackson turned State's evidence and his partner in crime went to the penitentiary. He was studying dentistry at a college in Cincinnati at the time of the murder.

ALONZO WALLING.

Alonzo Walling was 21 and was born at Hamilton, O., of respectable parents. He met Jackson at the Dental college, where he was also a student, and their intimacy resulted in his ignominious death. Of rather a morose and weak nature, he was a complete tool of the man who died with him.

THE CRIME.

On the morning of Feb. 1, 1896, a farmer boy found near Newport the headless body of a woman, which afterwards proved to be that of Pearl Bryan, of Greencastle, Ind., the identity being established by the shoes she wore, which bore the name of a merchant of her town. Suspicion pointed to Scott Jackson and he was arrested in Cincinnati. Walling was also arrested later. Letters from Jackson to the dead girl, whom he had ruined, and to her cousin, Will Wood, with other clews were discovered and a chain of evidence was woven that resulted, after a trial lasting from April 21 to May 14 in a verdict against him of death. Walling's trial began May 26 and lasted till June 18 and he was also sentenced to die. The proof was that Jackson had caused the girl to come to the city for the purpose of having a criminal operation performed. The body showed no signs of it, however, but cocaine was discovered in it. The head was evidently cut off while the girl was alive, as there were evidences of a struggle and her hand was cut as if it had been raised to defend her life.

The cemetery officials at the home of Jackson's mother refused to permit his remains to be buried there and it was decided to cremate them, so within 12 hours after he was living his ashes were in an urn, all that was left of the fiendish and cold-blooded man.

E. C. W.

While in and around Cincinnati I had the pleasure of seeing Messrs. J. G. Weatherford and George C. Goode, ex-Hustonsvillians. The former owns the finest drug store in Milldale, while the latter holds a responsible position with the Street Railway Co. Both are doing well. Mr. Goode is negotiating for a grocery store in Milldale. I also met my old friend, Louis D. Sampson, well-known to many Stanford people. He has charge of the Kentucky department of the Commercial Tribune and has a good thing of it.

The L. & N's reputation for good service it knows far and wide, but it is calculated to try one's patience to take the trip I did to Cincinnati. In the first place I had a 24-hour lay over at Livingston, had to transfer at the bridge near Rosedale, which was damaged by the recent freshet, and finally had to secure passage on a street car to get to Newport in time for the hanging. On my return another transfer was necessary which made my train sufficiently late to cause a lay over at Livingston of 10 hours. Its not the company's fault, however. It is merely one of those unavoidable accidents and my misfortune to be on hand when they occur.

E. C. W.

The so-called "confession" of Jackson and Walling which was heralded with such a flourish of trumpets by the Cincinnati Enquirer was the worst of fakes, it being simply a confession that Dr. Wagner, now confined in the lunatic asylum at Lexington and formerly a practitioner at Bellvue, is the guilty party and not them. The substance of the stories is that Will Wood had ruined Pearl Bryan, that he sought Scott Jackson to get him and her out of trouble, that Walling was called into help, that he secured Dr. Wagner to perform the criminal operation, that while it was being performed and in their presence the girl collapsed, the doctor sent for ergot by Jackson which was administered and in a few moments she was dead. Then the doctor ran for a wagon, Walling says, a cab or carriage Jackson calls it, and he then loaded the body in it and took it to the place where it was found. After the doctor had satisfied himself that the girl was dead, he made Jackson hold her head up and he severed it from the body. It was then wrapped up in a cloak and thrown in the vehicle, neither knowing what became of it. They rode back to Newport with the doctor, when they separated, the two men returning to Cincinnati and Jackson throwing the girl's clothes in the river as he passed over it. These "confessions" were sent to Gov. Bradley in a final appeal for pardon, but he saw at once the inconsistency of the two statements and their total variance with all other statements as well as those made on the witness stand during their trials, and very properly declined to interfere. If the "confessions" were true and nobody believes it, the fiends were particeps criminis in the murder of the two human beings, the born and the unborn, and an ignominious death on the scaffold was none too severe for them. Dr. Wagner's folks can easily prove an alibi. He was formerly a preacher and held forth occasionally in Garrard county.

STANFORD BAPTIST CHURCH.

TO THE BAPTIST CHURCH OF NEWPORT, KY.

DEAR BRETHREN:—Our recent pastor, Rev. A. V. Sizemore, having resigned his position here and accepted the pastoral care of your church, we desire to say that while we are sorry to have him leave us and regret the fact of his so doing, we desire to congratulate you on your success of having secured the pastoral services of so good a man and so excellent a preacher.

We thank the dear Lord for having sent Bro. Sizemore to our church, and in having enabled him to do a good work among us during the years of his pastorate. He has won the affection of all our hearts and the esteem of the entire community. His life among us is recognized as a blessing from the Lord. Believing as we do that in accepting your call, he enters a larger and more promising field, we pray for larger blessings from the Lord to rest upon him and his work among you. Through his arduous and self-denying labors as your pastor, and in answer to our prayers, may his work among you be abundantly successful in building up the Saints in their most holy faith and in calling sinners to repentance.

Done by order of the church March 13th, 1897. DR. WM. SHELTON, Mod. A. J. EARP, Clerk.

IN MEMORY OF J. M. ASHLOCK.

Lexington Tent, No. 20, K. O. T. M., Lexington, Ky., March 15, 1897.

WHEREAS, The Grand Commander of the Universe has removed from our midst our esteemed and beloved brother, J. M. Ashlock, and has, we trust, transferred him to a Heavenly rest and reward.

Therefore it is resolved that this tent has lost a zealous, earnest and faithful member and the membership of the tent a devoted friend and brother.

RESOLVED, That a page of the minute book of our tent be devoted and set apart whereon these resolutions shall be spread as a token of the affectionate regard of brother sir knights for his memory and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his bereaved family by the record keeper of this tent and that copies be furnished to the Lexington papers with a request to publish same.

Respectfully submitted, H. C. McDougle, C. B. Bailey, John H. Floyd, Jr., Committee.

Easter for this year falls very late, April 18. Easter Sunday may come as early as March 23d, or as late as April 25th. It is determined by the phase of the moon, as it is always Sunday after first full moon, immediately following Spring equinox, March 21st.

LANCASTER.

Circuit court adjourned on Friday, the business being fully disposed of.

Dr. Wagner, who is mentioned in the Pearl Bryan case, is known here, having preached at Antioch church.

Mrs. R. H. Young and Bruce Huffman, of Louisville, are with their father, Dr. William Huffman, who is quite ill.

Sheriff T. B. Robinson will take the four convicts to Frankfort this week. We understand that his daughter, Miss Maud, will accompany him.

A prominent republican here states that the gold republicans are dissatisfied with the Bradley-free-silver-democrat combine at Frankfort.

Howard Garrard, aged 33 years, a native of Garrard and well connected, died in Decatur, Ill., last Friday. His remains were brought here and interred in Lancaster Cemetery on Saturday.

The warrant against Robert and William Pollard, charging them with complicity in the turnpike raid, was dismissed on the motion of the county attorney, the witness failing to identify them.

George Farris says that John Bright's egg story is a tame affair. He claims to have 38 hens and three roosters, from which he gathers 45 eggs daily. Let the wood-cock answer both. Knowing both men, as your correspondent does, to indulge in a little euphemism, he would solve the statements by saying that they prevaricated.

The raiders destroyed the gate on Poor Ridge turnpike again Friday night, it having been replaced. The threats were such as to induce the keeper to move out on Saturday. The mob called at the gate near town on the Buckeye pike, but no one was at home and the gate had not been replaced.

On Thursday at Bryantsville, Mark Jennings shot George Mukes, colored, through the arm and left lung, firing three shots, one missing the mark. It is said that Mukes is not fatally wounded. It will be remembered that he was in jail last fall for striking Jennings with a stone during a quarrel over a game of cards. Rumor says that the shooting was done without provocation.

Capt. William Herndon has announced himself a candidate for circuit judge in this district on the republican ticket. With nothing personal against the captain it can be safely said that the able and dignified manner, in which Judge Sautley has filled the place, will insure his election again over any man. It is customary to endorse such men by giving them at least a second term and the rule will not be broken in this instance.

The inclination on the part of some to make the turnpike issue a question in the county, district and State offices is to be deplored, especially when the office sought has no connection with the legislative department, and would in no way effect the issue. The same is true of some other issues. A paper has gone the rounds to get an expression from the candidates in this county. One candidate boldly signed against free roads, saying that he always has an opinion of his own.

The determination on the part of Judge Burnside with the fiscal court and the turnpike companies of this county to bring the turnpike raiders to justice is highly commendable. Bills have been posted here showing that the court and the companies offer jointly $6,010 for the arrest and conviction of parties who destroyed the toll gates in this county on the night of March 16. $820 is offered for the first conviction and $600 for each additional conviction until the amount is exhausted.

At 12 o'clock on Friday night George Denny, Sr., died in the 73d year of his age, after suffering for several years. His funeral was preached Sunday by Rev. W. O. Goodloe, assisted by Eld. George Gowen, at the Presbyterian church, and many friends from this and adjoining counties followed the remains to Lancaster cemetery. He was a prominent man and belonged to one of the largest and most influential families in the country. He was liberal in his better days, having raised several orphans and dispensed many blessings. He was one of the organizers of the National Bank in this city and was president of that institution for 10 years. In 1861 he was elected to the State Senate and declined a re-election. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and in politics a republican. His widow is a sister of the late gallant and popular Col. John K. Faulkner. He left no children.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - MAR. 23, 1897

W. P. WALTON.

THE Courier-Journal is opposed to its little flock in the Legislature assisting in the election of a U. S. Senator, and it will probably do as it is bid. All the same it would be excellent politics to turn down Hunter and put a man in the office who could fill it with ability. Gov. Bradley is of all his party that particular man and we hope to see him elected. We take no stock in the talk of his resigning the governorship after the Legislature adjourns. If he does so it will be to take a higher office. The Hunter people say he is a dead sure winner, but if the democrats will join the republicans who are eternally opposed to Hunter they will be shown a thing or two.

THE natural trend of the ultra gold democrat, who thinks the party is made up entirely of one principle, is to the republican ranks, especially if he has contracted a chronic habit of bolting. An example is furnished in Representative Baird, of Daviess. He was elected as a democrat, bolted the nomination of Blackburn and of Bryan and now announces that he is a republican and will support Hunter. The democratic party is to be congratulated on the riddance. A turncoat can never be depended upon and is generally the most detestable of human beings.

GOV. BRADLEY has again demonstrated that he fully realizes that he is sworn to have the laws executed, not evaded or trifled with. Many a weaker man would have broken down under the pressure brought to bear on him to reprieve or respite those arch fiends, Jackson and Walling, but justice and the sterner stuff of his composition led Gov. Bradley to the proper discharge of his duty by declining to interfere with the law's demand. All honor to him.

CAPT. WM. HERNDON has announced himself for the republican nomination for circuit judge in this district, but he won't be the only one, if what we hear is true. Mr. P. M. McRoberts is casting wistful eyes toward the position and has many friends, who would like to see him fill it. A safe bet will therefore be that the next judge will be from Stanford and we are backing the present incumbent.

No wonder the pension steal grows and festers when democrats vie with republicans in the theft. The pension laws are liberal enough, God knows, yet it is telegraphed from Washington that Congressman Berry introduced last Friday 46 private pension bills, doubtless for deserters, coffee coolers and sutlers. How long, oh time-servers, will you abuse the patience of the people?

"SENATOR" WOOD is back from Washington feeling a little sore but still able to use his tongue. He says that Hunter is not the only pebble on the beach by a long shot, or words to that effect, and that his pretensions as the great and only pie distributor is an "infernal lie." Just so. He thinks that Gov. Bradley has the best show to be elected Senator to-day.

THE effort to oust Gen. John B. Castleman from the command of the Louisville Legion by certain enemies of the gallant and capable gentleman proved a miserable abortion. His opponent only got 52 votes out of a possible 324. Gen. Castleman has made the legion what it is and should be kept in command of it as long as he will perform the duties.

MR. WATTERSON is rehabilitating the same old stuff that everybody got tired of during the last campaign. He was absent from the country then, and may not have seen the papers, but everybody else did, and man, woman and child knows it by heart. Give us something fresh or give us a rest, Marse Henry, please.

THE Pineville Courier is still running an ad. of a railroad offering cheap rates to the inauguration at Washington, which occurred three weeks ago. It is probably trying to emulate the example of a Kansas paper which is still publishing rates to the World's Fair.

THE supreme court of Michigan has decided that Potato Patch Pingree can not hold the office of governor and mayor of Detroit at the same time and this voracious republican has had to give up the latter. Insatiable office-holder! Would not one suffice?

WHERE is Bobbitt? A member has offered a resolution that the Legislature be provided with ice water, as if a Legislature ever drank water of any kind. Such profligacy of the public money is worthy of the severest condemnation.

THE Louisville Commercial is tearing its shirt and screaming for Hunter, but we trust it is a loss of both the garment and its wind.

AND now comes Senator Blackburn to say that Baird, the turn coat, who has gone over to the Hunter forces, told him that an attempt had been made to bribe him by Hunter's friends at the last session. Baird has placed his life in jeopardy by saying that Senator Blackburn is mistaken or has deliberately lied.

E. B. SMITH calls his new paper at Livingston "Kentucky Colonel." It is a four-column folio and the initial issue shows that no 'prenticed hand is at the helm. Altogether the Colonel is worthy of its name and constituency.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The bill making a reduction in nearly all salaries of officers was favorably reported.

Mr. Greer has offered a bill to pay special judges out of the regular judge's salary.

Senator Goebel has offered a bill to permit women to hold the office of school trustee and vote in school elections.

It seems that everything is to be investigated at Frankfort. Things do seem out of joint there to an alarming extent.

D. Milt Hager, a free silver democrat, was nominated for Senator from the 34th district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John P. Salyer.

Ex-Senator Ed Parker, manager of the anti-Hunter forces at Frankfort, resigned his place as member of the State board of equalization, to which he was appointed by the governor. He says all the powers on earth and Hunter combined can not beat Gov. Bradley for the Senate.

A resolution was offered in the State Senate limiting the matters to be considered at the extra session to five in number, including revenue, relief for court of appeals, mobs, relief for A. and M. College and the election of a United States Senator. These are really all the subjects that demand attention at present.

The Senate investigating committee has unearthed a shocking condition of lax discipline in the Frankfort penitentiary, female convicts testifying that they freely visited and were visited by the convicts and guards for immoral purposes. One woman testified that Lt. Sharpley, the dismissed guard, had frequently visited her in her cell at night.

Morgan introduced a bill at Frankfort to punish persons for interrupting any public speaker by offensive language or "by throwing eggs or missiles of any kind at him." The penalty is to be a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 or imprisonment in the county jail from two to 12 months, or both fine and imprisonment.

POLITICS.

It is now reported that the Greek government has offered to buy the island of Crete.

The president has nominated Charles U. Gordon to be postmaster at Chicago, vice Washington Hesing resigned.

The new tariff bill was reported to the House and debate began yesterday and the final vote will be taken March 31.

Madison county democrats will hold a primary in April and all who will support the nominees will be permitted to vote.

Congressman Evans introduced a bill appropriating $500,000 for a monument to Abraham Lincoln, to be erected in Washington.

It is said that no less than six female convicts in the penitentiary have had children within a year and the Legislature will investigate.

In order to concentrate attention on the tariff bill, Speaker Reed will not for the present name any of the committees in addition to the three already announced.

Powell Clayton to be minister to Mexico; William M. Osborne, to be consul general at London, and John K. Gowdy, to be consul general at Paris, have been appointed.

M. J. Moss was nominated for circuit judge in the Pineville district and Commonwealth's Attorney Howard was given a second chance for election. A scurrilous hand-bill attacking the character of Mr. Moss was circulated during the primary election Saturday.

The A. R. Burnam Club, of Madison, an organization of about 200 colored voters, passed resolutions at their last meeting declaring that they will not support any candidate for either city or county office who is not opposed to the separate coach law. The Negroes are also organizing for their share of the county and Federal pie.

Congressman Pugh, of the Ninth Kentucky district, has evolved a novel scheme for avoiding the making of enemies in distributing patronage. He will require that all applications for his endorsement be submitted to the republican county committee of the applicant's county, and he will be guided by the committee's action.

This is said to be the slate: District Attorney, R. D. Hill; Surveyor of the Port, Dan Collier or R. M. Kelly; Collector Second District, E. T. Franks; Collector Fifth District, Stanley Brown; Collector Sixth District, T. B. Matthews; Collector Seventh District, S. J. Roberts; Collector Eighth District, J. W. Yerkes. The race for U. S. Marshal is anybody, but K. J. Hampton seems to lead.

News Briefly Told

Banker McKnight, of Louisville, gave bail in the sum of $13,000.

Two deaths, the result of boxing bouts, occurred at Philadelphia.

More than 50 people have been drowned in the Mississippi river flood.

The Farmers Bank, of Georgetown, has reduced the salaries of all its officers.

Only 1,500 out of the 65,000 Greek army reserve men called have failed to respond.

A Paducah youth shot himself because his sweetheart refused to kiss him good night.

At Spokane, Wash., a robber threw powder in a clerk's eyes and dashed off with a tray of diamonds.

A Negro in jail at Scottsboro, Ala., while resisting a mob, was riddled with bullets in his cell and killed.

A firm in the town of Lacon, Ill., has gone into the cat business, and will raise 100,000 felines this year for their pelts.

John Davis and Beauregard Fields have been held to answer at Georgetown on the charge of destroying toll-gates.

Former Police Judge Mike Thornton, of Millersburg, was found dead in the lock-up at that place, where he was put for being drunk.

The locomotive of the Chicago and Boston special on the Lake Shore railroad blew up at Chicago, killing the engineer and fireman.

At Louisville, a man was held for perjury for swearing in a bail case that he owned a $400 lot when it was found that the lot was in a cemetery.

The largest diamond in the world has been received in London. It is from South Kimberley, Africa and is said to be worth $2,500,000 uncut.

An East-bound passenger train on the B. & O. was wrecked near Oakland, Mo., killing Gen. Fullerton, of St. Louis, and wounding a dozen others.

A shortage of $35,000 was found in the accounts of F. D. Stegar, assistant secretary of the Mutual Assurance Society of Virginia, at Richmond, Va.

At Romney, W. Va., Daniel Cupp called his children around him and divided his property among them. He then went to his barn and hung himself.

Saloon license has been raised at Owensboro to $600 from $200. There are 35 saloons there now and it is claimed that the number will be reduced one half.

Gov. Sadler, of Nevada, assures the public that he saw nothing brutal in the prize fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons, and he thinks it will help the State.

B. Rainwater, an insanely jealous farmer, killed his wife, his mother-in-law, his brother-in-law and his step-daughter at Orrick, Mo., and then blew out his own brains.

In a drunken fight at a still house in Leslie county, Lewis Chadwell, John Ismon and one unknown man were killed and the owner of the place was perhaps fatally wounded.

Henry Hays, a Cairo, Ill., Negro, committed suicide by placing the blade of his knife against his breast and driving it in by striking the handle with a stick of wood.

While playing with a pistol which she did not think was loaded, Miss Ida Jones, of Benton, Saturday night shot and instantly killed a young son of Deputy Sheriff William Radolph.

Western Mississippi was visited Friday by a cyclonic storm. One life was lost and several others were injured. Great damage was done by destruction of buildings. The storm was accompanied by heavy rain.

The American clipper, Oakes, which sailed from Hong Kong 259 days ago and which had long since been given up as lost, was towed into port at New York. A terrible story of death, deprivation and suffering was told by the survivors.

It is said that friends of the late Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling intend to again prosecute young Will Wood, of Greencastle, Ind., for his connection with the Pearl Bryan case. This prosecution, will be based, it is said, on letters found among the effects of the dead men.

Out of 82 persons comprising the passengers and crew of the steamer Ville de St. Nazaire, which sailed from New York on March 6th, for Port Au Prince, Hayti, only four are known to have survived a disaster which befell the craft about 48 hours later.

The Mississippi is reported stationary at Memphis, but is rising at all points above and below. Nine of 11 railroads entering Memphis are tied up by the floods. The relief work at Memphis has grown to be an enormous task. Thousands of people have been driven from their homes and great suffering is felt.

GOV. BRADLEY RAN.—The Mt. Vernon Signal tells this story: Some time ago at Pineville court, Judge Alcorn, of Stanford, hatched a scheme to disturb Mr. Bradley's rest during the night. There were about 30 belled cows running loose in the village. After everybody had gone to bed the cows were gathered up and driven to the house where Mr. Bradley was staying. A half bushel of salt was scattered, which lent encouragement to the increase of bell ringing, cow fights, etc. Mr. B. couldn't stand it longer; he left town by first train.

FARM AND TRADE.

Nancy Hanks was bred to Bingen, 3, 2:21, on March 5.

Thomas Stone sold to B. H. Robertson a few hogs at 3c.

FOR SALE.—65 ewes and lambs. Woods & Lynn, Stanford.

Thompson Bros. sold to William Cloyd a bunch of heifers at 2½c.

R. H. Ragsdale, Pulaski, Tenn., has recently sold a three-year-old native jack for $400.

Sam Dudderar sold to Leavell & Burnside, of Garrard, his lambs for July delivery at 5c.

A dash over the blue grass section of the State shows that the wheat is looking unusually well.

Strayed or stolen, a red yearling heifer. Reward for her return. F. P. Bishop, Hustonville.

J. K. Carson and F. P. Bishop have formed a partnership and are buying stock on a large scale.

Carson & Bishop bought of different parties a lot of sheep at $1.25 to $3, some butcher cattle at $4 to $5 and a lot of hogs at $4 to $5.

W. E. Muncey & Co., are buying and shipping about 500 dozen eggs per day, paying for them 6½ cents, says the Richmond Register.

The Elizabethtown News reports sales of 200 export cattle at $4 to 4c and two polled bulls, a yearling and an aged, for $50 and $100.

Springbok, the celebrated stallion, died on Edgewater farm near Cynthia. His representatives won $15,432 last year. As a stud he ranked with the best on earth.

A cow belonging to Will Trimble, which was bitten by a mule that had hydrophobia and died several days ago, has gone mad and will have to be killed.—Somerset Reporter.

H. F. Hillenmeyer, of the Blue Grass nurseries, is not inclined to the opinion that peaches are badly injured or killed. He considers the prospect for all kinds of fruit above the average for this period.

Joe A. Cohen, of Woodford, formerly of this county, was on the C. S. the other night returning from Cincinnati, where he had taken a car load of hogs bought at 3.35. He also took to the city 49 young lambs averaging 33 pounds, but was only offered 8 cents, though got 12½ for those he sold the week before.

The Chicago Tribune wired this office Saturday for the prospects of the winter wheat crop and got the following reply: Wheat is looking very promising at present. The acreage is fully 5 per cent over the average and in this county the crop is 20 per cent more promising than a year ago. Several crops have been engaged at 60 cents.

BRODHEAD.

The much dreaded disease, the measles, on last Sunday evening at 3, claimed for its victim a favorite of the town and the dearest flower in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hutchinson. Susie was a consistent Christian with the Christian church at this place. She married Lee B. McHargue, of Laurel county, some 10 months since. For two years Mr. McH. has been riding as deputy sheriff in his county and on the day before his wife's death succeeded in getting the nomination for sheriff. He is a young man and this is, with the exception as being deputy, his first political effort. Mrs. McHargue will be buried at London, Monday evening, the 22d.

The republican primary at this place last Saturday was simply a Corbett-Fitzsimmons occasion without gloves. This political mass affirmed the statement that Rockcastle county is nothing more than a resort for pensioners and human relics of the battle field. Cannon-marked, powder-burnt, weather-beaten and the many variations of the word cripple promenaded under McKinley rein, when finally the cords of enthusiasm broke the locks, and the right hand of fellowship took place at the polls in early morn. But in order to celebrate the hour in full, as usual, we mention a little rough-and-tumble head cracking between George Reynolds and Hope Sharp, when the latter proceeded to make a test of George's head with a pair of brass knucks—three licks was quite sufficient, leaving the same number of gashes as a memento.

The police force interfered so that further devilishment was impossible. This is a result from an old score and it is thought that still there is more to follow. The polls closed at the usual hour and as the returns from the several precincts was reported: C. M. Cummins in the sheriff's race was slightly snowed under by Henry Catron. H. L. Tate and J. L. Kash died game, leaving M. C. Miller to beautify the throne in the county clerk's den. G. S. Griffin, present incumbent, will be in the final contest and will probably continue poking soup through the scud-hole to the prisoners, but a hope is left that Mr. T. Gilpin will see his day. Jim Griffin in the circuit clerk's race drives S. D. Lewis over the ropes. Judge D. P. Bethurum's referees counted ex-Judge Lear out, was given the belt in the judge's race easy. French will do the assessor's act.

The second attempt to elect a president for Centre College failed.

MRS. E. TEWMY, of Greensburg, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. A. McKinney.

JESSE TRAYLOR, of Corbin, is with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Traylor.

MR. C. E. TATE spent a couple of days at home from the Centre College Law School.

MR. JAMES LEE, after a severe tussle with a stomach trouble, is able to be out again.

PROF. E. L. GRUBBS will not open his private school till the 29th on account of the measles.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR J. M. CARTER went to London yesterday to make a survey for a distillery.

MRS. H. C. RUPLEY and mother, Mrs. P. E. Crowds, left Friday for St. Louis to visit relatives.

ASHLEY LILLARD, representing the Louisville Vinegar Works, is here on business and pleasure.

M. C. TANNER has gone to Willett's Point, New York Harbor, to work under a civil engineering party.

W. K. SHUGARS and handsome bride, of McKinney, visited the former's father Saturday.—Central Record.

MISS SALLIE B. RAY, of Garrard county, spent a few days with her brother, John L. Ray, last week.

MRS. B. O. McREYNOLDS, of Decatur, Ill., has been visiting her relatives, Mrs. R. S. Lytle and Mrs. W. B. Penny.

MRS. WILLIAM GEER, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Geer, left Saturday for Ohio to visit her mother.

W. T. RICHARDSON and wife, of Junction City were up last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Richardson.—Richmond Register.

AH HA! The Harrodsburg Democrat says: Hon. Harvey Helm, of Stanford, was here Sunday, the attraction being one of our handsomest ladies.

MRS. A. UNDERWOOD has moved to Cumberland Gap in order to be with her husband and her mother, Mrs. R. E. Mitchell, of Richmond, will take charge of her house in Darstown.

MISS SUSIE LASLEY, of Stanford and Miss Annie Lasley, of Louisville, two bright and pretty young ladies, have returned to their homes after a visit to Miss Lena Bentley, one of Livingston's pretty girls.—Kentucky Colonist.

MISS ANNE AND FANNIE SHANKS have returned from New Orleans where they made a delightful visit to Mrs. T. A. Rice. They say the weather was very warm there and winter clothes proved a weariness to the flesh. En route Miss Anne stopped at Lebanon and other points with friends.

HOME NEWS.

LET Danks repair your watch.

A NEW Disc Corn Drill at Higgins & McKinney's.

COMPLETE line of fishing tackle at Craig & Hoeker's.

SEED Potatoes and Garden Seeds of all kinds at Warren & Shanks.

THE Twice-a-Week Cincinnati Enquirer has raised its price to 75 cents.

LOST.—Three white fascinators in Christian church yard. Leave at this office.

BIG lot of Russell county Brazilian Seed Sweet Potatoes and other seeds at W. H. Brady's.

I WILL sell you best quality steel roofing nearly as cheap as you can buy shingles. A. C. Sine.

WIFE BEATER.—Marshal Newland arrested and lodged in jail John Smith on a warrant from Garrard charging him with cruelly beating his wife.

A DOG which had every appearance of being mad bit at our business manager when he went to his barn Friday morning. Fortunately for him the brute's teeth only caught in his pantaloons and the flesh was not touched.

SPECTACLES.—No fit, no pay. Danks.

NICE line of Hamburgs just received. Shanks.

I WILL sell rough lumber and shingles as low as anybody. A. C. Sine.

THE Somerset butchers have gone into a combine and will not sell a pound of meat of any kind for less than 12c.

WOVEN wire and oak picket fence, the most economical fence in the market. I am selling it at about cost of manufacturing. A. C. Sine.

THE Somerset Reporter gives a quarter of a column mention of the death of a valuable citizen, but in some way forgot to tell who the citizen was.

A BOY.—Rowan Sauley Webb, is the name of a fine looking boy who arrived Friday morning to further bless the union of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Webb, Jr.

WE observed Sunday that the Somerset pike was the most popular for drives. Cause why? The toll gates have been burned down and no toll is being collected.

THE weather has been bright and very warm for several days, causing the buds and the grass to come out rapidly. After thunder storms to-night, the signal service says it will be fair and colder Tuesday.

THE supports of an iron bridge near Milldale on the K. C. washed out and transfers had to be made for half a mile, delaying trains from one to five hours. The bridge was to have been finished Sunday night.

GREAT interest was manifested here in the Jackson and Walling case and the several bulletins of the hanging sent by Mr. E. C. Walton to this paper were eagerly read by the hundreds who were in town Saturday.

NEARLY all our merchants say that business is looking up. Warren & Shanks tells us that Saturday they had the largest trade since Christmas Eve and Mark Hardin says his court day business exceeded any for two years.

THE Claxton & Manford Big Novelty Co., which on the 22d of August last contracted to give a performance at Walton's Opera House March 26, must have ascended the flame, as up to this time no advance agent has appeared. Perhaps 'tis better so.

A NEGRO named Jim Cloyd was given 10 days in jail and fined $25 for totting a pistol, Saturday. He was at Mt. Salem, when he pulled out the weapon and tried his marksmanship at hat. After he has toted a ball and chain around for a season, he'll think this totting business is not what it is cracked up to be.

J. H. RAINES.—Considerable interest was manifested in the election of a democratic committeeman in Stanford precinct, No. 3, and a good many voters participated. Mr. A. C. Sine was made chairman and James H. Raines and Free Silver Johnson were put in nomination, and the former was elected without a division. In Hustonville No. 3 Mr. Ed. J. Tanner won handily. Both are good selections.

AN examination by Dr. Kastenbine, of this city, of the stomach of M. W. Johnson, deceased, of Paint Lick, shows that it contained enough strychnine to produce death. Johnson was a poor man and carried $100,000 insurance on his life. This made the insurance companies suspicious and brought on an investigation. Extensive litigation will probably be the result of the discovery.—Courier Journal.

KENTUCKY STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.—The Kentucky State Medical Society in its 42d annual session will convene in the city of Owensboro on May 5, 6 and 7th, beginning on Wednesday, May 5th, and continuing through Thursday and Friday. Extensive preparations are being made for the convention. All are expected and it is hoped that every member will be present and fetch with him another who will join the ranks of this ancient and honorable society. Steele Bailey, secretary.

BIG SALE.—William Fields, who recently moved to this county from Livingston, made a big lumber sale a few days ago. He disposed of about 800,000 feet of oak, poplar and chestnut lumber at 1 1/2 to 1 1/4. M. B. Farrin & Co., of Cincinnati, were the purchasers and they will begin moving it from Livingston in a few days. It will take about 75 cars to haul it. Mr. Fields, who is closing up his business in Rockcastle, has about as much more lumber on hand which he would like to sell.

WOMEN FIGHTERS.—Will Lovelace's wife and Hannah Alcorn, also colored, who had a hair pulling on the street some months ago, met on Main street Thursday night and renewed hostilities. The former used a knife and cut Hannah's hands considerably. During the fight rocks were used and one struck Mr. A. J. Rice, who had come into town to take the third rank in the Knights of Pythias. He thought it a part of the initiatory services, however, and paid little attention to it. The trouble between the women is said to have been caused by intimacy between the Alcorn woman and the other's husband.

THE mercury was up to 80 degrees at noon yesterday.

FOR SALE.—One lady's wheel—Stearn's latest. Used one season only. Apply at this office.

APRIL 2.—The Hustonville Minstrel Co. will hold the boards at Walton's Opera House on Friday evening, April 2. A good crowd should greet the young men who give a clean, good show from beginning to end. General admission 25c; reserved seats 35c.

HEAVY.—J. W. Perrin, the sewing machine man, tells us that he and two drummers weighed at Danville Friday and that their combined weights were 1,059. One weighed 442, the other 350 and Mr. Perrin, who is a right smart chunk of a man himself, 267 pounds.

IN JAIL.—A Louisville paper says C. A. Phipps, an itinerant musician, is in jail there for stealing a watch from Miss Allain. It will be remembered that Phipps was here with the Manhattan Quartette recently and played on all sorts of things, besides doing a tune on the piano with his nose.

JAMES BELDEN, who keeps the gate on the Lancaster pike near Stanford, has received a warning not to collect more toll. The letter, which is signed "A Good Friend," says he may live in the toll-house, but if he demands any toll he may take what follows. None but arrant cowards would write anonymous letters.

THE "Economic Club" is a misnomer. Instead of keeping the cost under $1, as was originally agreed, each entertainer seems to want to excel the other and each entertainment seems to be the best. That of Mrs. J. S. Owsley, Jr., and Mrs. J. S. Wells was pronounced superb in all its appointments, the lunch being a complete triumph of the culinary art.

THE Rockcastle primary Saturday was a very disgusting affair and even the republicans are ashamed of their liberal use of whisky. The following is the ticket nominated: County Judge, D. P. Bethuram; County Attorney, Pleas Colyer; Sheriff, Henry Catron; Circuit Clerk, James Griffin; County Clerk, Richard Miller; Assessor, Tom French; Jailor, George Griffin and School Superintendent, W. A. B. Davis.

SINGULAR.—While Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Coulter were attending services at Methodist church Sunday night their carriage caught fire and before it could be extinguished all the top and most of the body was consumed. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it is supposed it caught from a cigarette carelessly thrown in it by a smoker or from Mr. Coulter's pipe which he may have left lighted in the vehicle.

BOTH sides have lined up for the final fray at Frankfort, with the chances decidedly in favor of Gov. Bradley for U. S. Senator, though the Hunter forces are making big claims. Those for Bradley are now confidently counting on 47 democrats, eight sound money democrats and 21 republicans to vote for Bradley on the first ballot Tuesday. The sound money democrats decided to take no concerted action but to vote as each sees fit.

WHIPP WON.—Last Summer Mr. John W. Whipp's safe at Liberty was robbed and he had Owen G. Head, of Marion county, arrested on suspicion, at least Detective Penn, who worked up the case, arrested him for the crime. It was shown that he was not guilty and Head brought suit against Mr. Whipp for $5,000 damages in the Louisville court. It was tried last week and won by the defendant on peremptory instructions.

THE Richmond Register claims to have more than 100 subscribers, who have been on its lists for 32 years and the Georgetown Times says it has 200 who have paid up regularly for the 31 years of its existence. The INTERIOR JOURNAL was 25 its last birthday March 1, 22 of which it has been under the present management, and it can count over 500 subscribers who have been on the list as long as we have record of it. They are the best people of the county, "the flower of the yearh" as old Billy Latin used to say, and may they live forever and never die.

THE commencement exercises of the Stanford Colored Public School Friday night was well attended, the audience including many white people who enjoyed the well rendered program. The music was splendid and was conducted by Miss M. J. Miller, of Richmond. Dr. W. D. Tardiff's address of welcome was well worded and well delivered and the duets sung by himself and wife were liberally applauded. There was only one graduate, Miss Sallie C. Peyton, who delivered her excellent essay very creditably without manuscript or notes. Col. T. P. Hill made the presentation speech in his usually eloquent way. The rest of the program included songs, marches and drills which were admirably executed. There was excellent order and every thing passed off in the most pleasant manner.

John Churchill died at his residence in Louisville. He was for many years a regular visitor to Crab Orchard Springs and was well-known here.

MATRIMONIAL.

Julius Jeswine, 23, obtained license yesterday to marry Miss Minnie Spitzer, 20, at Ottenheim on the 25th.

At Winston, N. C., Frank Willis, just 21, was married to Mrs. Fannie Adams, a widow of 54. She has six sons older than her husband.

Wm. H. Smither and wife, Drusillia, each about 88 years of age, celebrated their 63d marriage anniversary in Versailles last week.

Frank Smith, of Logansport, Ind., is wanted for shooting his daughter when she told him she was going to marry a youth whom he did not like.

RELIGIOUS.

Dr. Cody, of Georgetown, had 25 additions at the Williamsburg meeting.

Rev. W. O. Milliken, of the Somerset Baptist church, has accepted the call to El Paso, Texas.

Rev. H. C. Morrison is holding a meeting at the Northern Methodist church in Bowling Green and creating quite a furor.

E. T. Lewis, claiming to be a Methodist preacher, of Munfordville, was held over at Bowling Green on the charge of attempting to pass forged checks.

The Presbyterians own more church property in New York City than the Roman Catholics. The former own $9,354,000 worth, while the latter $8,124,650.

During the past year the American Sunday school Union organized 2,222 Sunday schools at neglected places and gathered in more than 72,000 neglected children.

The members of the Versailles Baptist church, at a meeting last week, extended a call to Rev. Robert Lee Bowman, of Danville, to become pastor of the church. He has accepted.—Sun.

Beginning January 1 and ending March 7, reading 27 chapters daily, Mr. T. C. Davis, of Waco, read the Holy Bible through. He reads the book through three times each year, does this Lincoln county product.

Rev. George H. Turner preached five excellent sermons for the Walnut Flat congregation, which extended him a unanimous call. Caldwell church in Boyle has also called him but he got a letter while here asking him to defer his acceptance till his return home and his decision may not be known for a week or two.

Rev. C. E. Nash says in his Baptist Inquirer: While in Stanford we were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Penny, but greatly missed the smiling face of Dr. Penny, who was always the leader among our forces in this place and county. His death was a sad blow to our affairs. We are under many obligations to Bro. A. J. Earp for kindness shown in getting subscribers.

The Christian Aid Society wish to express through the INTERIOR JOURNAL their very deepest sympathy and love to Mrs. Eliza Gentry Blain in this sad time of sorrow and trial. We commit you, our dear sister, friend and co-worker, into the hands of Him who is able to comfort and help all those who call upon His name: to One who is a rewarder of the faithful, such as we know you have been. Yours in Christian love,

Mrs. J. J. McRoberts, Mrs. L. B. Cook, Mrs. J. W. Hayden, Committee.
